

The Perfect CITY

By

Sayar Ko Ko Lwin

Little Explorers

3

Wow! It says "The Garden City"!

The Flying Map "Look, Doremi! A new map fell from the book!" said Khoon Khoon. It was a shiny, digital-looking map of Singapore. "Wow! It says 'The Garden City'!" Doremi replied. The toy plane on their shelf began to glow. "All aboard!" they shouted, and off they flew.

An illustration of two children, a girl and a boy, flying a brown biplane over a city at sunset. The girl is pointing towards the city, and the boy is holding a magnifying glass. The city below is filled with tall buildings, including the Marina Bay Sands hotel, and greenery. The sky is a mix of orange, pink, and blue, with clouds and small white stars.

It's so green!

First View from the Air As they descended, Khoon Khoon pointed, "It's so green! There are trees on top of all the buildings!" Doremi agreed, "It looks like a city built inside a giant park!" Their plane circled the famous Marina Bay. "I see a giant boat on top of three towers!" he yelled.

Meeting the Merlion Their first stop was a statue with a lion's head and a fish's body. Water spouted from its mouth. "What is that?" asked Khoon Khoon. A friendly guide said, "This is the Merlion. It's the symbol of Singapore. The lion head represents the original name, 'Lion City'." Doremi said, "Hello, Mr. Merlion! Can we take a photo?"

Gardens by the Bay They walked to a garden with giant, tree-like structures. "Are those real trees?" wondered Doremi. Khoon Khoon read the sign. "They are 'Supertrees'! They collect sunlight and rain." As it got dark, the trees began to glow with beautiful lights. "It looks like a forest from the future!" whispered Khoon Khoon in awe.

The Cloud Forest They entered a huge, misty glass dome. Inside was a giant mountain covered in plants with a waterfall pouring down. "Whoa! It's so cool in here!" said Doremi. They took an elevator to the top and walked down on a high pathway through the clouds of mist. "I feel like a bird!" said Khoon Khoon.

Whoa! It's so cool..!

I feel like a bird!

Flower Dome Next Door Next door was another giant dome. This one was dry and filled with flowers and plants from all over the world. They saw giant baobab trees and a colourful field of tulips. "It smells amazing in here," said Khoon Khoon, smelling a rose.

A Ride on the Singapore Flyer They got into a giant Ferris wheel called the Singapore Flyer. As their cabin went up, the city got smaller and smaller. "I can see our Merlion friend from here!" said Doremi, pointing. Khoon Khoon added, "I can even see ships in the sea!"

Ooh...Hooo..

Sentosa Island Fun They took a monorail to an island called Sentosa. It was full of fun things to do! They built a big sandcastle on Siloso Beach. "This sand is so white!" said Khoon Khoon. Doremi was looking at the map. "They have a giant aquarium here too! Can we go?"

S.E.A. Aquarium They entered one of the world's biggest aquariums. They walked through a tunnel with sharks and manta rays swimming over their heads. A huge ray swam right above them. "It's smiling at us!" laughed Doremi. Khoon Khoon loved the colourful jellyfish that glowed in the dark.

They're nice..!

Meeting a Dragon at Universal Studios They visited a theme park with movie characters. They saw a giant green dragon on a castle. It moved and blew smoke! "Is that real?" asked Doremi, hiding behind Khoon Khoon. A performer said, "Don't worry, it's just for show! Shrek lives there!"

The Night Safari That night, they went to the world's first safari park for nocturnal animals. They sat on a tram that moved quietly in the dark. They saw a leopard walking and heard the howl of a wolf. "Shhh, we have to be quiet so we don't scare them," whispered Khoon Khoon.

Singapore Zoo Breakfast The next morning, they had breakfast at the zoo. Some special guests joined them! A furry orangutan came with its keeper to say hello. "Good morning," said Doremi to the orangutan. It just scratched its head, making the children laugh.

Science Centre Wonder They visited a place full of fun experiments. They touched a giant plasma ball that made lightning follow their fingers. "I'm a superhero!" shouted Doremi. They even learned how to make giant bubbles. "This is the best science class ever!" said Khoon Khoon.

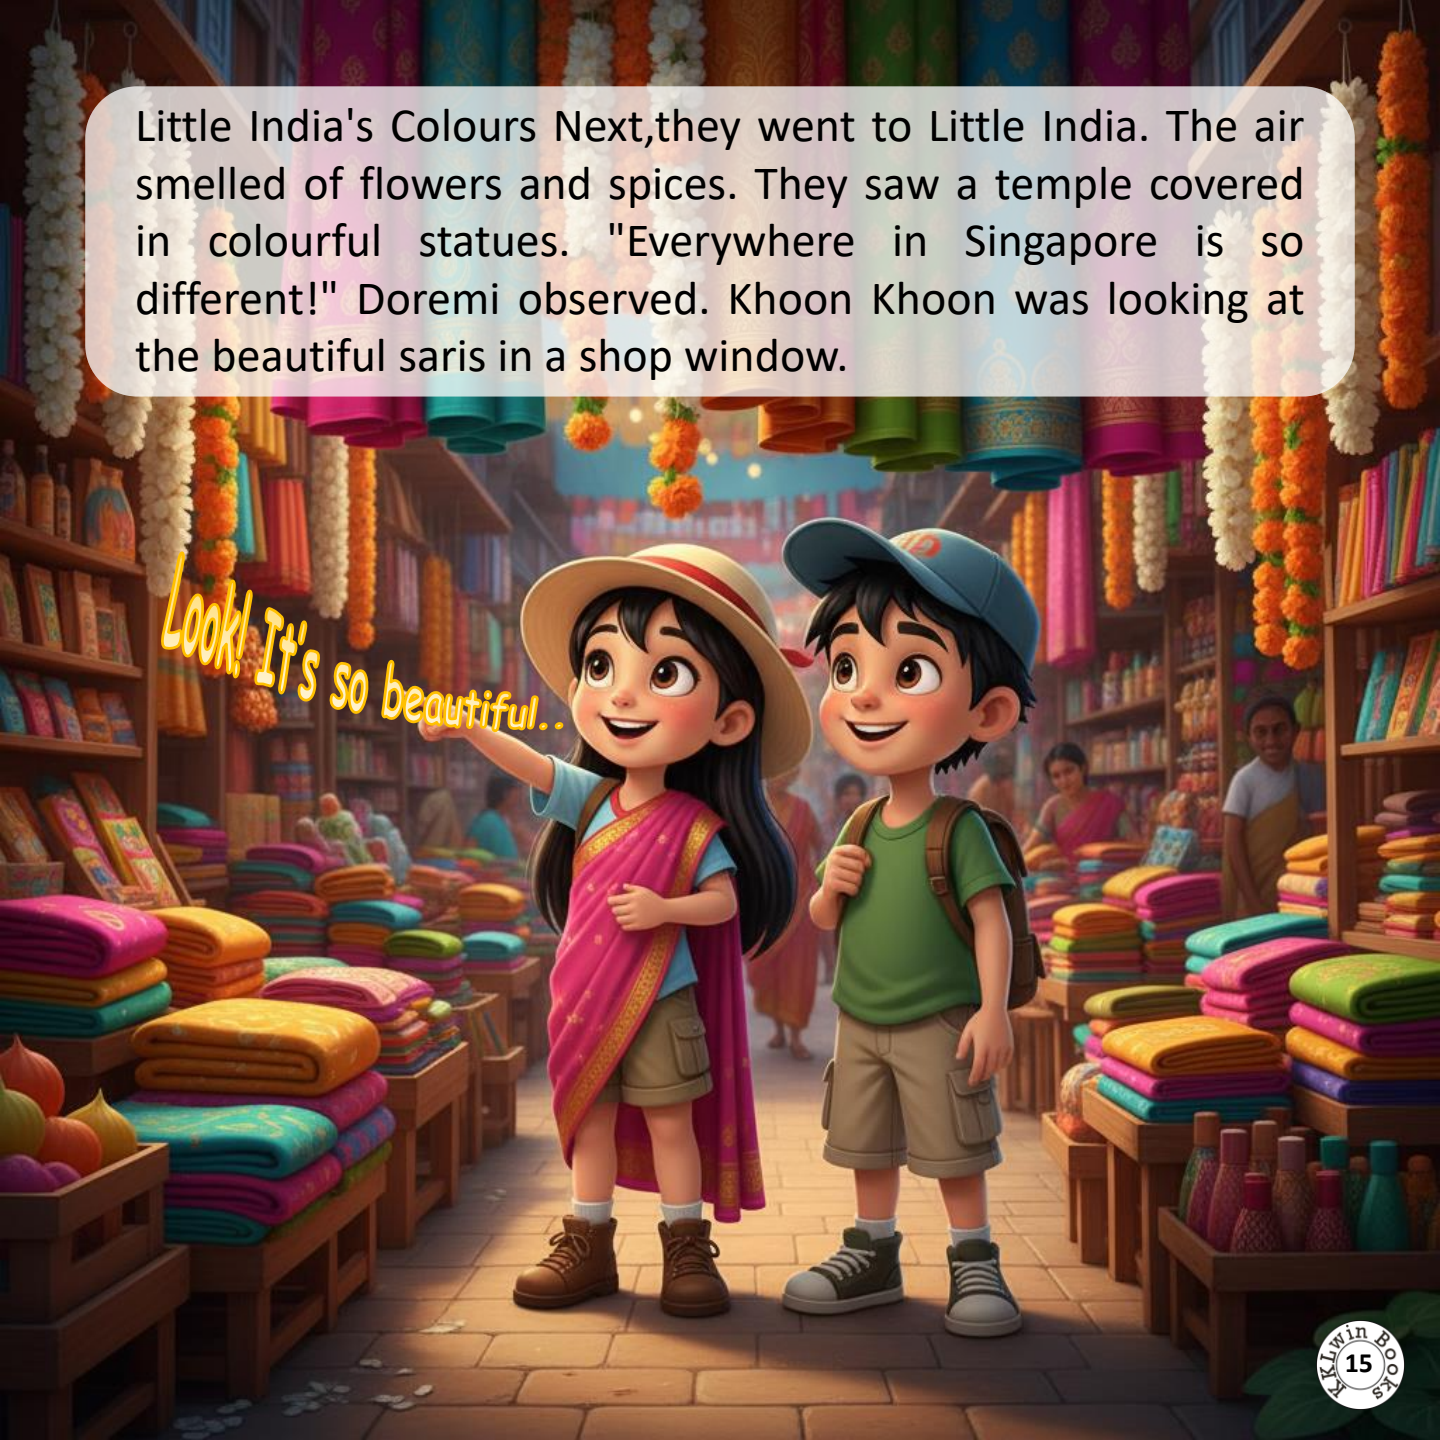

Wow! Amazing..!

Finding Heritage in Chinatown They explored a area with old shops and red lanterns."This is Chinatown," said Khoon Khoon. They bought a sweet pineapple tart from a bakery. The shop owner said, "Thank you! Come again!" They liked how clean and colourful the streets were.

Little India's Colours Next, they went to Little India. The air smelled of flowers and spices. They saw a temple covered in colourful statues. "Everywhere in Singapore is so different!" Doremi observed. Khoon Khoon was looking at the beautiful saris in a shop window.

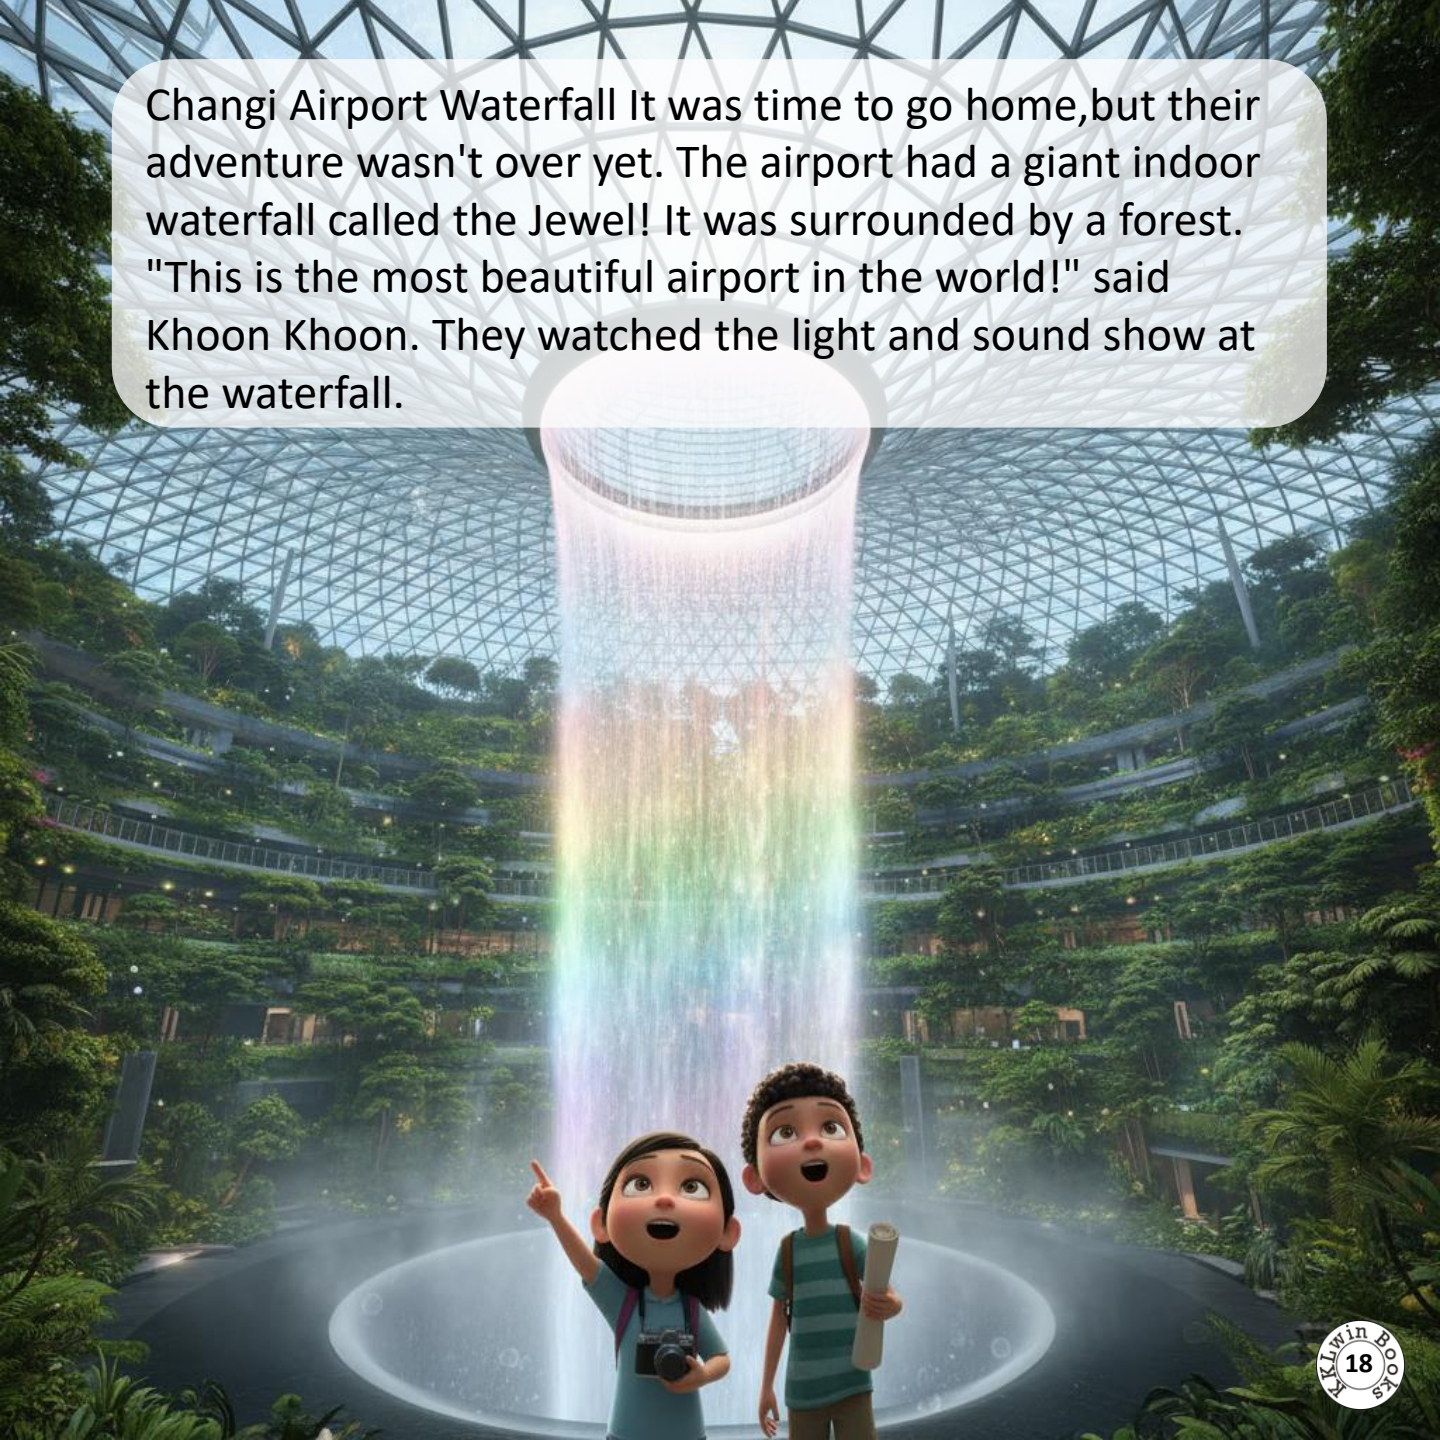

Arab Street's Golden Dome They walked down a street with cute cafes and textile shops. At the end was a beautiful mosque with a big golden dome. "It shines so brightly under the sun," said Khoon Khoon. They sat outside and drank fresh juice.

A Treat on Orchard Road They visited a very long street full of shopping malls. It was called Orchard Road. They didn't go shopping, but they bought an ice cream sandwich from a street uncle. The uncle sliced the ice cream block and put it between two wafers. "Yum! This is delicious and fun to eat!" said Doremi.

Changi Airport Waterfall It was time to go home, but their adventure wasn't over yet. The airport had a giant indoor waterfall called the Jewel! It was surrounded by a forest. "This is the most beautiful airport in the world!" said Khoon Khoon. They watched the light and sound show at the waterfall.

Riding the MRT They took the train(called the MRT) to the airport. It was so clean, fast, and quiet. "I didn't hear any loud noises on the train," Doremi noticed. Khoon Khoon said, "Everyone follows the rules. That's why it's so nice."

It's so quiet...

The Rules of Being Good They talked about what they learned."People in Singapore are very polite and they don't litter," said Khoon Khoon. Doremi added, "And they don't chew gum everywhere. It helps keep the city clean!" They decided to be more mindful of rules at home too.

A Singapore Sling (of Ice Cream!) At the airport, they saw a drink called 'Singapore Sling' for adults. They asked for a kid's version. The waiter smiled and brought them two mocktails with tiny umbrellas and a scoop of ice cream each. "This is our fancy Singapore drink!" they giggled.

The Magic of Hawker Centres They loved the food courts called 'hawker centres'. They tried chicken rice, sweet satay sticks, and a cold sugar cane juice. "So many different foods in one place!" said Doremi with a full mouth. "And it's not expensive!" Khoon Khoon added.

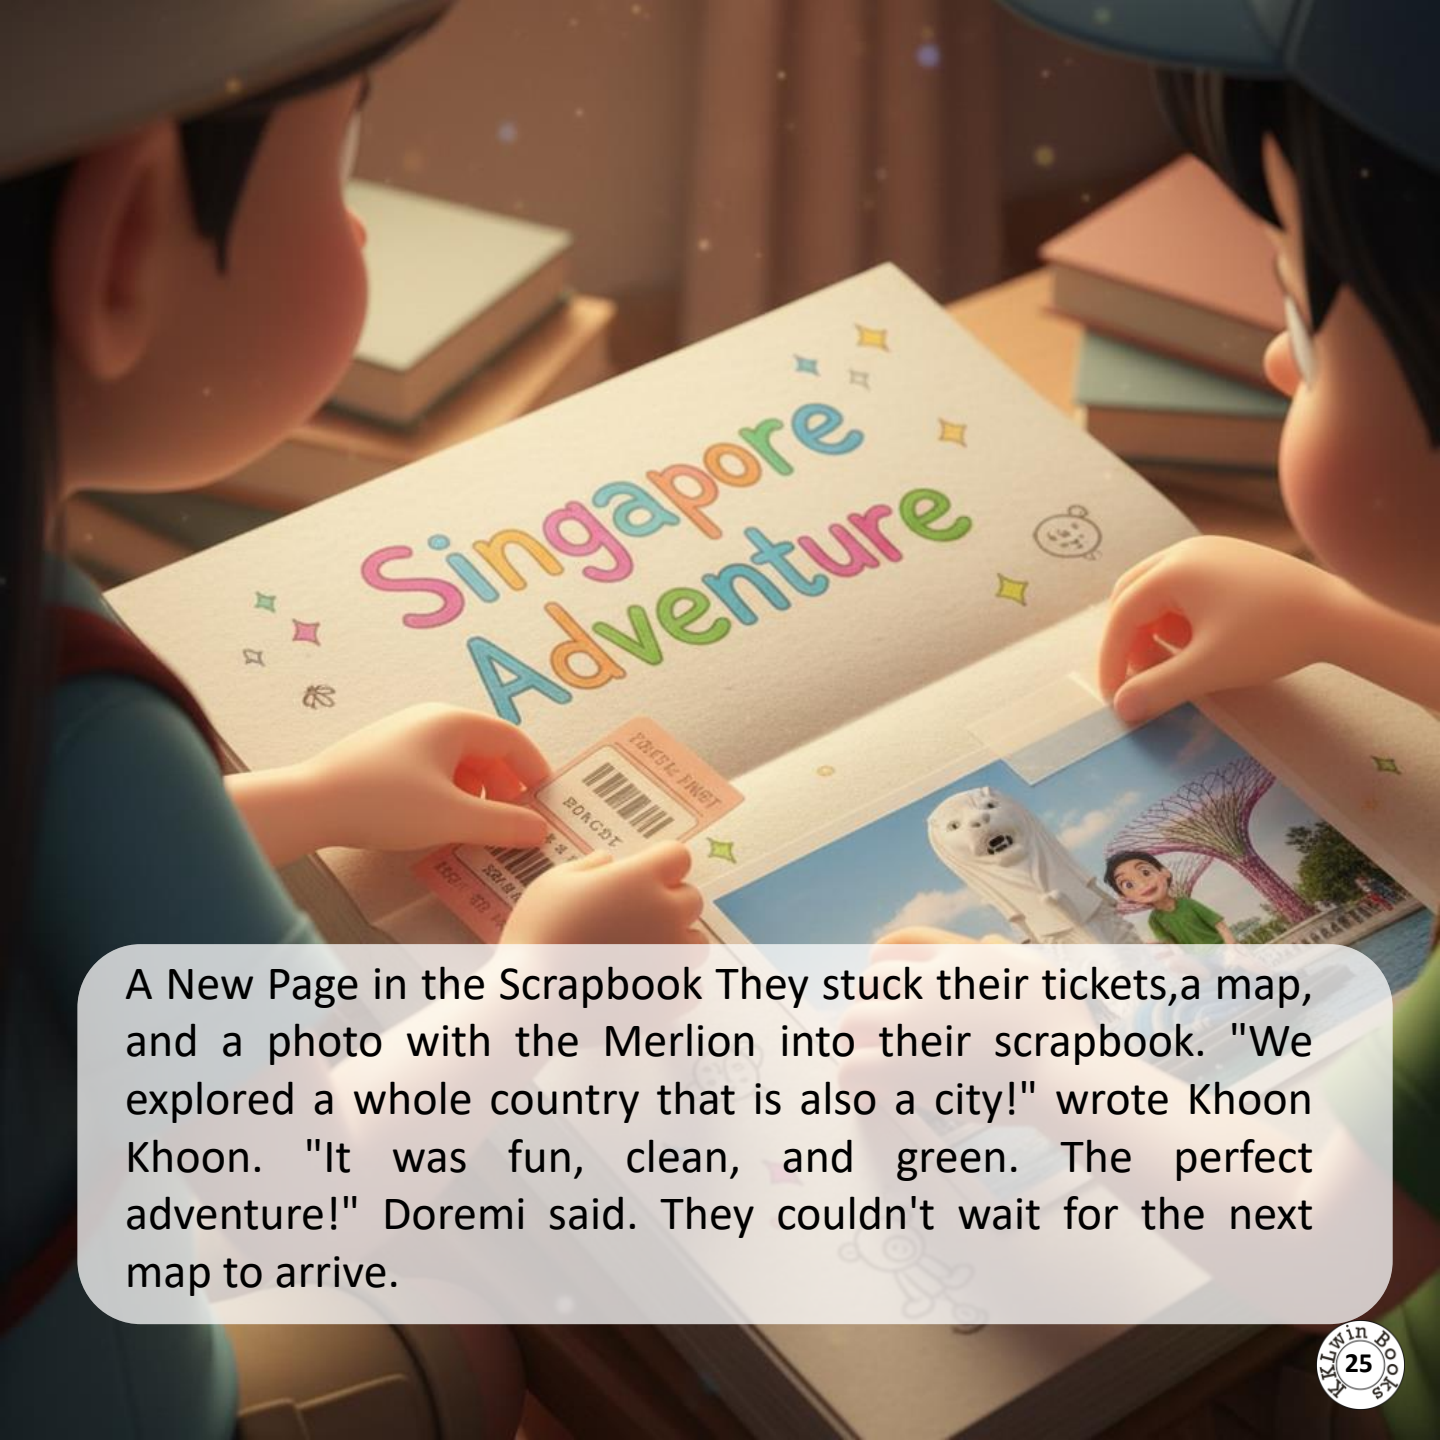

An illustration of two children, a girl and a boy, sitting on the wings of a wooden biplane. The girl is wearing a straw hat and waving, while the boy is wearing a blue cap and holding a magnifying glass. They are flying over a city with a prominent bridge and a river, under a sunset sky with colorful clouds. The word "Goodbye..." is written in a blue, bubbly font in the upper left corner.

Goodbye...

Bye-bye, Clean City They boarded their magical plane."I will miss the clean streets and the green trees," said Khoon Khoon, looking out the window. Doremi said, "And the friendly people! Everyone said 'Thank you' and 'Please'."

A Garden for Their Room When they got home, they had an idea. "Let's make our own little 'Garden City'!" said Khoon Khoon. They planted a small pot of flowers. "Every time we water it, we will remember Singapore," said Doremi.

A New Page in the Scrapbook They stuck their tickets,a map, and a photo with the Merlion into their scrapbook. "We explored a whole country that is also a city!" wrote Khoon Khoon. "It was fun, clean, and green. The perfect adventure!" Doremi said. They couldn't wait for the next map to arrive.

The End..

See you on next Journey...!

This book is created for educational purpose only aim at kids who is above 7 years old by Ko Ko Lwin.

